SQUEAK or SQUAWK

Made by:
Asteros Irons
Chloe Hall
Erica Smart
Michael Ogunwale
Vignesh Muralidharan

START

You are a rodent. Your life starts, and ends, with a bang. Regardless of the amount of compassion or malice, you will inevitably meet your end in a blaze of glory (with an optional squeak of varying volume). Rodents live simple lives by the grace of the great capybara, whom they will all one day meet, in death or in glory.

Your Goal. Kill the despicable squawking sacks of feathers that keep stealing your seeds from the rodent feeders, then god for this injustice.

Fast - How many attacks a mouse may make Furious - The amount of damage maniacal mice make squeak - The size of all dice and chance of an explosion

playing the game

Beat back those blasted, begging, barbaric, bigoted and bogus birds by rolling a squeak die, dealing Furious damage if the roll does not explode. If the die explodes,the character dies in a blaze of glory, dealing the damage number you achieve with the exploding die, and your turn ends (roll a d8 to determine your new rodent). Repeat this process for each Fast. Players take their turns in height order (the smallest player goes first) followed by the enemy attacking, reducing every player's squeak die by 1 size (d8 → d6, d6 → d4, d4→ d4) for each Fight the enemy has.

Classes:

1. Rat: Long Tails, Slender Bodies, Long teeth filled with hate and a head filled with large amounts of sewer liquid, gunpowder and flies.
Fast: 4 Furious:2 Squeak:d8
2. Mouse: Decades of experimentation has infused them with pure, unfiltered adrenaline. And methamphetamine. Mostly meth.
Fast:5 Furious:2 Squeak:d6
3. Porcupine: Hundreds of spikes. One fuse.
Fast:6 Furious:2 Squeak:d6
4. Squirrel: Every squirrel has one dream. Blow everyone ELSE up. The army does not take kindly to the birds that steal their nuts.
Fast:6 Furious:2 Squeak:d4
5. Chinchilla: Small, round, and violent. Just as likely to respond with claws as with teeth. Can be grasped by the tail and used as a flail.
Fast:5 Furious:4 Squeak:d4
6. Hamster: To use: arm with peanuts; pull pin; and throw towards enemy. Do NOT release without significant velocity imparted.
Fast:3 Furious:3 Squeak:d8
7. Chipmunk: Two pouches of ammunition. An enemy in sight. Who needs anything else? Shoot to your hearts delight.
Fast:2 Furious:4 Squeak:d6
8. Beaver: Slow, lumbering beasts with a woodchip on their shoulder. Carve their stories into the trunk of time with gigantic, yellow teeth. No amount of sticks and mud can ever dam the river of hatred they feel.
Fast:1 Furious:10 Squeak:d4

GMs Look Here

How to Run the Game
You are the Big Cheese. You keep track of the enemies that the rodent army is throwing their bodies against. Their goal is to beat god. Your goal is to facilitate that. Each time the rodents deal Furious, decrease the enemy's Flight by that number. When the enemy's Flight reaches 0, the enemy is defeated. Every time an enemy is defeated, move to the next enemy. You start with the Pigeon. At the end of a Scuffle (One turn taken by every rodent player), the enemy attacks all players Fight times. Make the players reduce their squeak die by 1 size for every Fight point.

Big Cheese - The one controlling the enemies
d4, d6, d8 - 4-, 6-, or 8-sided die
Explode - When a die rolls the maximum value, roll again, add the total (if it explodes again, repeat this process.)

